

South Asian History Assistant Professor Position Opening at Lafayette College

The Department of History at Lafayette College seeks a full-time, tenure track faculty member with a specialization in the history of South Asia (time period and region open). The successful candidate will teach five courses per year, most of them in South Asian history. An ability to teach world history, historiography and historical methods, and/or in an interdisciplinary program is also valued. Questions about the position may be directed to the head of the History Department, Professor Joshua Sanborn (sanbornj@lafayette.edu).

Institution: Lafayette College: History

Position: Assistant Professor, History of South Asia

Location: Easton, PA

Application Closes: Sep 15, 2016 at 11:59 PM Eastern Time (GMT-4 hours)

Qualifications

We expect the successful candidate to have received her or his PhD by the time that classes start in Fall 2017.

Application Instructions

Your application should include a letter of application, a c.v., three letters of recommendation, an article or chapter-length writing sample, and a teaching portfolio. Please address how your scholarship, teaching, mentoring, and/or community service might support Lafayette College's commitment to diversity and inclusion articulated in the College's diversity statement (<http://www.lafayette.edu/about/diversity-statement/>). The application deadline is September 15, 2016. We plan on conducting preliminary interviews at the Annual Conference on South Asia in Madison, WI in October, though we will conduct Skype interviews with selected candidates who are unable to attend that gathering.